Ray Sawyer Deplores Indifference of Vets

“Of the sixteen million veterans today,” stated Ray Sawyer, National Commander of the AMVETS in his Press Club-IFC sponsored talk Monday, “twelve million have apparently been too apathetic to join any veterans organization.”

After a brief discussion of the issues which face America and the veteran today, Commander Sawyer decided to turn the meeting into an informal discussion period because his audience was so small. One member of the audience then pointed out that the smallness of the group was an excellent example of the apathy of which Sawyer had spoken.

Members of the local AVC chapter, representatives of a Boston AMVETS chapter and a number of students entered into lively discussions on housing, veteran employment and the FEPC, bonuses, monopolies and labor unions. While general agreement was reached on the point that veterans should awaken to the responsibilities which go hand in hand with being a citizen of America, particularly in the face of the depression which Commander Sawyer said that economists believed was imminent, there was some quite violent disagreement on many of the issues mentioned. A great deal was said about what should be the American attitude towards Russia, with the AVC members present advocating an “understand Russia and compromise” policy, and others claiming that a firm stand should be taken in opposition to totalitarianism in any form. Chairman Sid Dimond was finally forced to halt this discussion, which showed no signs of abating, and closed the meeting.

Dr. Holmes Speaks New SCM Officers Installed at Banquet At Honor Convo

Dr. Henry W. Holmes, formerly Dean of the School of Education, and now Professor of Education at Harvard University, was guest speaker at the Honors Convocation held this afternoon at 2 p.m. in the Field House.

The program included an academic procession by some of the faculty and all graduating students, an address by Dean Holmes, and the presentation of awards by President Stoke, with the assistance of the Chans of the University and the presidents of AWS and Student Council.

The Honors Convocation is held each year in order to recognize the scholastic abilities of certain students.

Reynolds Head of '48 Senior Skulls

Senior Skulls last week elected Lewis Reynolds of Lambda Chi president to succeed Lambda Chi's Alson Brown. Dick Scammon succeeded Jack Mudge as vice-president, Fred Kuss was elected to replace Jim Doon as secretary, and Joe Cote took over the treasury from Phip Thurell.

The Skulls, first senior men's honorary society on campus, was founded in 1909. Dedicated to promoting the best interests of NHC, and later, UNH, the organization has sponsored many projects of benefit to the campus and to college athletics. Chief undertaking this year was the information and guide bureau the Skulls set up for the Interscholastic Basketball Tournament, a public relations unit for the University serving the hundreds of schoolboys and their families who came for the annual sport-fest.

Next year the Skulls hope to resume normal activity, replacing their former project, Annual Song-fest (now under sponsorship of IFC and Pan-Hel), with reactivation of the colorful, traditional Class Day. First will come their Football Dance, October 4th. They will continue throughout the year to play host to visiting athelthic teams.

NOTICE

The 105th Composite Group, Organized Reserve Corps, State of New Hampshire, will hold a training program in Room 102, Pettie Hall tonight at 7:30 p.m.

Library Features Student Exhibition

Exhibits ranging from an astronomical telescope and full-sized pieces of furniture to paintings, watercolors and articles of needlework made up an annual exhibition of student work in the arts, recently held at Hamilton Smith Library.

Robert Fisk and his Telescope

The telescope is a 100-power, reflecting type, made by Robert Fisk at the University Student Workshop. Fisk got the idea for the telescope while still in the army and took first steps toward its creation at the air base in Albuquerque, New Mexico. He spent eight days of spare time in the army cutting out a section of bullet proof glass which eventually became the mirror for his telescope.

A miniature stage set in the exhibit was designed by Arthur A. Goldsmith, Jr., of Nashua and executed by students in a class in stagecraft. It is an exact replica of the set for “The Royal Family,” a recent undergraduate production.

Approximately 200 items are on exhibition. They cover almost the entire field of arts and handicrafts. Skills and arts represented include leather carving, copper work, pottery, weaving, charcoal and pastel drawing, hand hooking, finger painting, puppetry, carving and modeling, oil painting, pattern design, needlework, costume design, and clothing construction.

Terriers Victims As Slump Breaks

The UNH baseball team finally broke its five game losing streak last Monday by soundly trouncing Boston University 3-1 behind the superb three-hit twirling of Bob Haller. For a while it looked like another setback when the visitors got a run in the top of the second. With two outs Krupa committed an error on Foley and Gibson singled him to second. While pitcher Snow was batting they committed a double steal, and after Snow walked, Burby threw the ball into center field allowing a run to score.

In the bottom of the second Massucco walked, Dupont singled and Francoeur sacrificed them both along. Then McCullough hoisted a long fly and Massucco waltzed across with the tying run. In the third UNH iced the game when Bobotas walked and Clark singled. Then with two outs Art Massucco hit a long ball into right field off the outstretched glove of Ryan, the BU fielder. Before he could retrieve the ball two runs scored and Massucco wound up at third with a resounding triple. From there on it was a thrilling pitcher's duel between Snow and Haller, with UNH blowing a few chances to score insurance tallies.

Swasey was so happy with the long awaited win that he gave the team a day of rest on Tuesday, Dartmouth is on Wednesday,

Commencement Ball To Be Held June 6

The annual Senior Commencement Ball will be held June 6, 1947, at Commons. Arrangements are now under way for an orchestra for the formal dance.

The following Seniors are representing the Class of '47 in making the arrangements: Chairman, Enoch D. Fuller; Refreshments, Jane Whitney; Orchestra, Lee Albee; Decorations, Monroe Evans and Virginia Skinner; Chaperones, Robert Stearns and John Mudge; Publicity and Tickets, Ann Thompson and Paul Willey.

It is expected that many alumni will be present. In the past the Senior Prom has been given less attention than many of the other formals. Considering the size of the graduating class this June, it is hoped that the Seniors will cooperate in making this one the highlight of the spring formals.

Sponsor Song Fest On T-Hall Lawn

A song-fest sponsored by the sororities and fraternities will be held tomorrow night on the lawn in front of T-Hall at 8 p.m. The last time such an event was presented was the spring of 1941, and it is hoped by the Interfraternity Council and Pan-Hell that tomorrow's affair will re-establish the tradition.

In case of inclement weather, the program will be held in New Hampshire Hall.

NOTICE

Senior Banquet will be Friday, June 6, at 6:30 p.m. at Commons. Tickets will be placed on sale next week at the Wildcat and Pharmacy. Watch for further notices.

Dr. Eastman Resigns Because of Illness

Under his physician's orders, Dr. M. Gale Eastman was recently relieved of his post as dean of the College of Agriculture and director of the State Agricultural Experiment Station.

Dean Eastman is threatened with a heart condition which makes it necessary for him to give up administrative duties at once. After a complete rest he hopes to be able to engage in some part-time research activities.

A native of Sanbornton, N. H., Dr. Eastman graduated from the State College of Agriculture in 1913. That year he became the first county agricultural agent in the history of the Extension Service, being located in Sullivan County at Newport. From 1914 to 1915 he served as assistant commissioner of agriculture at Concord under Commissioner Andrew L. Felker. He was awarded his master's degree at Cornell University in 1916, and his doctor's degree in 1931.

In 1918 he returned to Durham as assistant professor of agronomy, was made associate professor in 1925 and professor of agricultural economics in 1929. He assumed the deanship of the College in 1933 and the directorship of the experiment station was added in 1939.

He is the author of many publications, notably “An Economic Study of Dairy Farming in Grafton County,” “Roadside Marketing in New Hampshire,” and, in recent years, the annual reports of the Experiment Station. Under his leadership many important studies of the agriculture of the state have been developed by his staff.

Tax Committee Works Illegally; Fails Duty

An Editorial

We feel that the time has come for us to speak out against certain matters which have recently been brought to our attention. We refer to the balloting which took place last Monday on the student activity tax and the way in which that ballot was drafted. We feel that it is unjust and unfair to all concerned.

The official Rules Book of the University sets forth certain definite rules in regard to the tax and Associated Student Organizations itself. It seems to us that these rules have been flagrantly violated, and that the entire affair has been illegally conducted. For the complete text of the rules, we refer the reader to the constitution of ASO (Associated Student Organization), Section 13.9 of the 1946-1947 Rules Book, beginning on page 70.

Delegates to the Board of Directors of ASO are to be elected each year, at a meeting called by the incumbent Board. Meetings shall be held at the call of the President of the University, the Treasurer of ASO, or on request of four members of the Board. This Board is composed of five members-at-large, the President of the University or his representative, and a Treasurer appointed by the President. The New Hampshire wants to know who constitutes this Board of Directors of ASO at the present time.

The current handling of the student activity tax arouses our indignation as much as anything ever has. It has, according to the most recent Rules Book, been conducted with utter disregard to any rules which have been laid down for it. We quote Section 13.9 of the Rules Book, Article 4, Section 2:

“There shall be appointed by the President of the University a committee of six, whose duties shall consist of conferring and advising with organizations relative to the budgeting and expenditure of monies resulting from the collection of the student activity tax, approving the budgets presented, and making recommendations to the President of the University relative to the collection and administration of the student activity tax.

Blue Key Elects Bryan President

The election of officers of Blue Key, the Senior men's honorary society, was held last Monday evening with John Bryan of ATO being elected president, Warren Dale, TKP, vice president, and Russ Orton, TKE, secretary-treasurer.

Organized in 1921, Blue Key has returned to campus after an absence of three years. The society gives recognition to outstanding men in the Senior class on purely an honorary basis. Members are chosen on their successful participation in extra-curricular activities, student leadership, and satisfactory scholastic standings.

Actively, Blue Key sponsors the Mayoralty Campaigns, Stunt Night, football rallies, and the annual Carnival basketball game between Blue Key members and the girls' all-star team. These activities were carried on this year due mainly to the interest and work of the Key's retiring president, Ray Bowles and secretary, Herman Skofield. The recently elected members have plans underway to carry on these activities with the anticipation that student participation will be even greater than in past years.

Other new members include Hugh Betts, Woody Fraser, Howard Tilton, Ralph Townsend, Ed Styrna, Fred Scannell, John Atwood, Tom Cotter, Al Britton, and Fred Jervis who is a former member returned to campus.

NOTICE

Dean Medesy will speak on “The Responsibility of Citizenship” at the final meeting of AVC at 7 p.m. tonight in the Organization Room of Commons. The meeting is open to all students.

All Star Tennis and Softball Teams To Play Jackson

Members of the women's All Star Tennis and Softball Teams will journey to Jackson to compete this week. Miss Kay Markey, coach of the Softball Team expects a real battle, for the UNH girls tied the Jackson Team last year and were beaten by them in basketball this year by only one point. The Tennis Team under the direction of Miss Sally Dunning has had more experience than the softball players,

'Character Building' Year Ends for Lacrosse Team

Varsity lacrosse ended on last Saturday when Tufts downed the Wildcats, 5 to 4, and the Jayvees pulled through in their encounter, 9 to 5, to down the Jumbo Juniors.

Reeves, Grant, Smith, and Shaw tallied the four points for the UNH cause, and late in the last period an unsuccessful attempt was made at a rally as two quick goals were scored.

Scoring for the J.V. squad was by Sanborn, Abbott, and Harkaway with a brace of goals apiece, while Clark, Bent, and S. Sanborn added one each. Coach Pepper Martin's Junior Varsity team will wind up its abbreviated season on Saturday when they engage Phillips-Exeter Academy at Exeter.

A recapitulation of the six games this year for the varsity outfit reveals that they lost all six games, but two were by narrow margins. Scores were as follows: Boston Club 5—UNH 2; Dartmouth 13—UNH 0; Mass. Inst. Tech. 7—UNH 4; Harvard 10—UNH 2; Williams 11—UNH 3; Tufts 5—UNH 4.

as they have already played one match this year. The team consists of Joan Stevens, Jackie Laing, Lynn Bates, Ruth Crane and Marge Douglass. Ellie Smith is serving as alternate. Last Tuesday they traveled to Colby Junior College and played four matches. Joan Stevens was the only UNH player to win her match, though all were close. With this experience behind them, Miss Dunning expects they will do better at Jackson this week.

NOTICE

At a recent meeting the Interfraternity Council elected the following men to office: president, Palmer Reeves, Kappa Sigma; vice president, John K. Bryan, ATO; secretary, Rusty Orton, TKE; and treasurer, Red Davis, Theta Kappa Phi.

Engineers Lose to 'Cat Cindermen

MIT's Engineers fell before the onslaught of the Durham Wildcats last Saturday at Cambridge when they came out on the losing end of a 84½ - 50½ score in a dual track meet.

Coach Paul C. Sweet's tracksters garnered 11 firsts and seven seconds places to control most of the events. Arthur "Bobo" Johnson set a new UNH mark in the shot put with a heave of 44 ft. 4½ inches to better the mark of 43 ft. 11 inches set by Art Learmonth in 1936.

Veteran runner Al Haas swept two first places in the 100 and 220 yard dash, Vern Hall and Si Dunklee turned in their usual performances to win the mile and two-mile in that order, Ed Styryna swung back into form to cop the hammer throw and javelin toss. Burt Cram notched the discus throw, and Boo Morcom clinched his triple-event specialty in the high jump, broad jump, and pole vault.

FINAL RESULTS:

100-yard dash, Haas (UNH), Barndollar (UNH), Worssam (MIT); time 10 sec. 220-yard dash, Haas (UNH), Ingraham (MIT), Sweet (UNH); time 22.1 sec. 440-yard dash, Ingraham (MIT), Sweet (UNH), Wagner (MIT); time 50.1 sec. 880-yard run, Kirchner (MIT), Webb (UNH), tie between Lewis (MIT) and Kiepper (UNH); time 2:00.6 min. One-mile run, Hall (UNH), Spear (MIT), Henze (MIT); time 4:35.7. Two-mile run, Dunklee (UNH), Knapp (MIT), Jablonski (MIT); time 9:56.2 min. 220-yard low hurdles, Proffitt (MIT), Barndollar (UNH), Baldwin (MIT); time 24.6 sec. 120-yard high hurdles, Proffitt (MIT), Barndollar (UNH), Baldwin (MIT); time 15.9 sec. Javelin, Styryna (UNH), Gamble (UNH), McCutcheon (UNH); distance, 180 ft. 9 in. Pole vault, Morcom (UNH), Unuvar (MIT), Fletcher (MIT); height 12 ft. 9 in. Broad jump, Morcom (UNH), Barker (UNH), Wirssam (MIT); distance 22 ft. 5½ in. High jump, Morcom (UNH), Adams (MIT), Howitt (MIT), height 6 ft. Shot put, Johnson (UNH), Tupper (UNH), Mullen (UNH); distance 44 ft. 4½ in.

The New England Intercollegiate Amateur Athletic Union will hold the 60th annual track and field championships on Friday and Saturday at Lewis Field. Twenty colleges and universities represented by more than 300 entrees will compete for the coveted laurels which represent the highest achievement in track in the northeast.

The New Englands were last held here in 1939 and several marks were set. If the times and distances made this year in dual meets are any indication, almost all the existing marks are in danger. The calibre of men is far above pre-war standards due to the interruption of schooling by so many men and the developing of new men with these veterans as models. There are athletes who first competed in the N.E.'s in 1940 and are back this year.

Hapless NH Nine Give Three Away

Up until last Monday's win over Boston University, the baseball news was all bad for the UNH nine. Losses to Maine, Connecticut and Northeastern brought the losing streak to five in a row.

A week ago Wednesday Maine came to town and trounced the Wildcats 6-2 behind the five hit pitching of Stanwood and Preble. Two errors and a timely single gave the Bears two in the second, but the Wildcats clawed back with one in the third when Stanwood walked four men in a row. After Preble replaced him the UNH bats were silent the rest of the day. White was pitching pretty well until the eighth when Maine scored three times on three singles, a passed ball, a walk, and a fielder's choice. Two errors gave UNH a gift run in the ninth, but it didn't phase Preble who was the winner.

Loses Four-Kitter

On Friday Connecticut and Chapin held UNH to six hits and won the game 4-1 with only four bingles off Standish and Haller. A single, a walk, a sacrifice and an infield out gave the Uconnns a tally in the second, and they iced the contest in the fifth with two runs when Standish hit two batters, Chapin singled and Sorota field deep. Chapin lost his shut out in the eighth when two singles and an error gave the Wildcats a score.

Northeastern avenged its early season defeat by routing the Wildcats 7-2 last Saturday. A double by Bobotas, a walk to Sam Clark, and an error on a grounder by Massucco gave UNH two first inning scores and a 2-0 lead. However, Northeastern exploded at White's expense in the second and scored five runs when they banged two triples, a single and the UNH infield committed a costly error. UNH slugged Rosato hard in the late innings and finally knocked him out in the ninth when they loaded the bases with none out. However, relief pitcher Watts forced the next three UNH batters to succumb meekly.

"Meet Your Prof"

The defending champs, Tufts, will not be as superior as in other years, but will have a strong running squad, but no depth in the field events. Rhode Island and Brown seem to be the schools to beat on the basis of their successes in dual meets, but the Wildcats are not to be discounted.

In a meet of this type, an outstanding competitor from a weak team might win one event and thus cut down the possible score of the larger teams. Regardless of which school wins, it is expected that no large score will be run up by any one school, and the margin of victory will be small.

Among the stars who are scheduled to run are: Barnhardt of Tufts, Brooks of Wesleyan, and Dwyer of Brown who have run the century in less than 10 seconds. Palmieri of Tufts and Royce Crimmins of Brown are rated tops in the country in the 220 and quarter-mile with Coach Paul Sweet's son Dick, as a close contender in spite of his lack of experience. Billingham of B.U., Josh Tobey of Brown and Hall of R.I. are the cream of the half-milers. The mile which is always a popular race promises to be down around 4 minutes 25 seconds with Woods of B.U. a favorite due to his two 4:23 miles this spring.

Si Dunklee, the tireless plodder for the Wildcats in the two-mile run, will have to chop 20 seconds off his best time to beat Black of Rhode Island. Ted Vogel of Tufts, who runs every long-distance race, including the grueling marathon, broke his leg in training and will not be on hand to defend his two-mile crown.

In the hurdles, Alberghini of Northeastern who showed up very well here a couple of weeks ago, and Branche of Bowdoin look like the main contenders, but Danl of Rhody might upset the apple cart.

Boo Morcom will bow out of intercollegiate jumping with an attempt to cop three championship titles. He is conceded the pole vault and probably will take the broad jump, but the high jump will be a battle from the word "go" Boo goes after the scalp of a certain Mr. Phillips of Brown who edged him in the Brown meet. Phillips has since done 6 feet four and a half inches while Boo has not been forced to his limit.

In the weight events there will be a mad scramble for the top spots with as many as six men in one event who are capable of setting new marks. Ed Styryna has broken the jinx that followed him all winter and can be expected to garner some points for the local tribe. Bennett of Brown, Marsanskas of Maine, and Gallogy of Holy Cross are leading performers of national fame who will be in action.

The trials in the dashes, hurdles, middle distances, and some of the field events will be held on Friday and the finals in all events will take place on Saturday.

When you graduate, you will have one of the finest opportunities to learn to fly ever offered young men in peacetime.

The Army Air Forces' Aviation Cadet Training Program gives you that chance. It cannot be duplicated anywhere at any price. Leader in new things for aviation—in jet and rocket propulsion, far-ranging heavy aircraft, improved navigation facilities, and many other of the latest developments in a fast-moving field—the AAF can help you begin a brilliant future.

The Air Forces have reopened Aviation Cadet training to qualified civilians 18 to 26½ years of age. Men selected for training as pilots under the terms of the program must be single and have had at least two years of college education, or the equivalent, in an accredited institution. Upon successful completion of the course, graduates will be commissioned Second Lieutenants, Army of the United States, and assigned to flying duty with the Army Air Forces.

Reactivation of the Aviation Cadet program is typical of the AAF's continuing effort to provide selected young men every opportunity to earn advancement. Cadets who win their wings as today's pilots will be the same kind of men who, in wartime, built and manned the world's mightiest air arm.

Make your plans now to get in at the start! By applying immediately after graduation, you can take your qualifying examinations and enter the July 1st class, or—if you want a summer vacation—you can take your examinations now and be ready to enter the class beginning October 15th. Further information is available at AAF Bases, U. S. Army Recruiting Stations, local Civil Air Patrol headquarters, or by writing to the Commanding General, Army Air Forces, Washington 25, D. C.

GREEK WORLD

By Rae Cabrera

Since my co-conspirator is not capable of writing a column after the bricks that last week's bouquets precipitated I will now stick my own neck out and name a few of my choices in the Greek World Male Awards. . . Of course you understand I found it almost impossible to limit myself to one man in each frat, but here goes. . . Alpha Gamma Rho. . . Russ Goodwin, ATO. . . Johnny Bryan, Theta Kap. . . Jack Lawson, Theta Chi. . . Bob Leggett, Kappa Sig. . . Bill McGovern, Lambda Chi. . . Don Perkins, PiKA. . . Hank Kazienko, SAE. . . Sandy Brainerd, Sigma Beta. . . Nat Taft, TKE. . . Gerry Smith, Phi Alpha. . . Morris Gozonsky, Phi D U. . . Paul Braind (Had to put that), Phi Mu Delt. . . "Woody" Frazer. Best all round Fraternity award goes to Johnny Atwood, Theta Chi. . . Of course, being a woman, I do have the privilege of changing my mind! . . . PMD's week-end dance was semi-formal with fifty couples in attendance. Andy Hastings imported all the way from the mile high city of Denver. That should leave Andy mile-high and dry on this campus. . . Phi D U moved en masse to the Stardust last Saturday night to get away from the campus only to find the campus there too! It was jammed! However, the steaks were good, the gals lovely, and a good time was had by all. . . "Dimples" Parker of the "Zoo" failed to live up to her name this weekend. A lot of ATO's were disappointed. We hear that ATO's Turnabout Party was terrific. The "gals" were gorgeous. . . New officers of Phi Alpha are: President, Ralph Paresky; Vice-President, Martin Fleit; Secretary, Bill Harkaway; Treasurer, Herb Livingston, and Sgt. at Arms, Alan Rogers. . . ATO's "Murph" Godfrey has been spending so much time at a certain house in Exeter that the brothers are considering refunding part of his room rent. . . It is with great pride and joy that "Bunny" Stewart of TKE has at long last got his auto "Bucket" dubbed for bolts back on the road. That frustrated atmosphere at TKE has been due to Mr. Stewart sans his automobile. . . Jean Ashton, Theta U, needs a guide as she can't take her eyes off her diamond. The lucky man is Forrest Perkins, Hampton, N. H. . . Bob Piper's date at PMD liked Blair's mustache and wanted to take it home for a remembrance. Looks like you'll have to grow one, Pipe! . . . Most accomplished of the Senior fellows is Ralph Pino, Theta Kap, who can blow bubbles off the end of his tongue with the greatest of ease. . . ATO's pledges are bowing low to Freddy Kuss and Johnny Bryan, the new secretary of Skulls and the new Prexy of Blue Key, respectively. . . AGR was another one of the frats that had a very successful semi-formal house dance Saturday. ## The Cauldron

By Verburg and Underwood

On Friday, May 9, an informal House Dance was held by The Commons in the Trophy Room at Commons. Through the efforts of House President Tex Cleveland and Social Chairman Dick Rock the dance was very successful. The decorations were in harmony with spring and provided a lively setting for the entertainment. Chap-erones were the house mother, Mrs. Liston, Mr. and Mrs. Lockwood, and Miss Thames.

Gibbs Hall held its last informal 17. A lavish floral display was arranged by Steve Dudley as a setting for the dance. Smooth music and soft lights made an enjoyable atmosphere for the dance. Chap-erones were the house mother, Mrs. J. Wilson; Mr. and Mrs. A. Eastman, house mothers, Mrs. L. Cobb and Mrs. A. Durrance. A corsage was presented to each of the chap-erones.

The girls at Schofield House held a house meeting on Tuesday, May 20, to decide what to do with the balance of their house money. It was decided to buy an appropriate gift for the house. Ice cream and cake were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

This week's novelty on campus is a brand new Hudson super six, custom built limousine owned by Edmund Tarbell of Engelhardt. The novelty is that it was built in 1921 and has been jacked up ever since. Its previous owner kept it in storage for 26 years because "The Dern thing went too fast!" Unique features of the machine are its five window curtains for privacy, a built in ash tray with a combination poker chip and playing card rack, a glass partition separating the front and rear seats, and an intricate intercommunication phone between the driver and the passenger, believe it or not! Oh, if they only built cars like that now!

New Sociology Club officers: President, Judith Friedmen, Vice-President, Joyce Chandler; Secretary, Gloria Masters; Treasurer, Janet Datson.

Storm Observers Needed in Study

Weathermen across the country are preparing to study the habits and characteristics of thunderstorms. The purpose of the project is to gather new data so that a more scientific approach may be made in coping with such weather phenomena as thunder, lightning, wind turbulence, icing, rain and hail.

The Amateur Weathermen of America are requesting the assistance of volunteer observers to report on thunderstorms that come within sight. It is hoped to have at least one in each community. Proper forms will be supplied observers. No special instruments are required.

These amateur weathermen will cooperate with three groups of professional meteorologists who are conducting these intensive studies in three sections of the country.

In Southern Ohio the United States Weather Bureau and the University of Chicago will concentrate their attention on the storms around Wilmington, just southeast of Dayton.

New England thunderheads will be subject to investigation by radar by the Army Air Forces at the MIT Meteorological Laboratories in Cambridge, Massachusetts.

In New Jersey the Signal Corps at Fort Monmouth and the U. S. Navy at Lakehurst will conduct a joint radar study of all storms in the Middle Atlantic States.

The reports of the Amateur Weathermen will materially assist these projects. All who would like to serve as volunteer thunderstorm observers in their communities are requested to write Thunder and Lightning, Amateur Weathermen of America, The Franklin Institute, Philadelphia, 3, Pa.

Ben Thompson Day Perpetuates Memory of UNH Benefactor

By Dorothy Hirsch

Any student at the University of New Hampshire will always remember T-Hall with its red brick walls, Gothic tower, and clanging bell. He passed it several times a day; there he registered, perhaps had classes, or was called on the carpet before the Dean. Yet how many know anything about its namesake?

Benjamin Thompson, a descendant of one of the old families of the Great Bay Region, lived his long (84 years) life in Durham, increased his fortune by careful investment, and planned for the gift to the state of New Hampshire which was to perpetuate his memory. He was born on April 22, 1806, and in February, 1856 he made his will, leaving practically all his fortune to the state to set up a college of agriculture.

Tuesday, April 22, was officially Benjamin Thompson Day. At the first birthday celebration, held as a part of the Seventy-Fifth Anniversary Proceedings in 1941, Professor Harold Scudder delivered an address. In 1942 Professor Donald Babcock spoke on "Benjamin Thompson, Essential American."

Except for a few months of teaching school in 1825, Ben Thompson confined himself to work on his father's farm, which was deeded to him in 1828. Until his health began to fail, he improved his farm and devoted himself to increasing his fortune. He was tall and thin with a heavy frame that gave him the appearance of awkwardness. Lucien Thompson describes his uncle as "a man of simple tastes, of a quiet disposition—although, when aroused, quite excitable; exceedingly frugal and disposed to save everything from waste." Ben Thompson never married. He was engaged to a widow he had courted 24 years before, but for some reason the engagement was broken.

Ben Thompson was always a progressive. For a number of years he gave his hay crop to the support of the Durham Library association. Once he offered to give his entire apple crop to the family of a man who had been killed while working for the Boston and Maine railroad. All his gifts showed a shrewd planning.

He believed firmly in the use of sound scientific methods for improving agriculture and showed an active interest in all proposals for educating young men to become better farmers. No one besides his lawyer knew what his will contained; he was known as a feeble, eccentric old man whose money would probably go to his nephews. However, practically all of his money was left for an "agricultural school to be located on my Warner farm, so-called, and situated in said Durham, wherein shall be thoroughly taught, both in the school-room and the field, the theory and practice of that most useful and honorable calling."

Thus over 75 years ago, the University received its initiation from an eccentric farmer who specialized in hay and apples.

Three Shows End Radio Club's Year

Mike and Dial pulled something new out of its bag of tricks last Thursday night when it presented a 45-minute stage show before the Pomona Grange in Somersworth. The show, a simulated broadcast, was well received by an audience of 130. Mike and Dialers participating were Hal Firestone, Grace Miller, Jayne Williams, Allen Warrington, Marion MacLane, and Don Clough, who presented selections from Gilbert and Sullivan, and Jeanmary Durant and Sid Diamond, who gave readings.

Mike and Dial ended its broadcasting year by producing two transcribed programs. First, an adaptation of Poe's "The Tell-tale Heart" written by Sid Diamond and featuring Hazen Gifford, Henry Mann, Donald Chapman, Bob Webber, Howard Daly, and Ted Page. Second, "Moments From the Light Opera," a quarter-hour of Gilbert and Sullivan featuring Grace Miller, Hal Firestone, Jayne Williams, and Allen Warrington. The program was produced by Frank Blair.

MUSE-INGS

Popkin was excellent in many portions of his role, but in places did not convey sufficiently the air of being blase. Miss Ericson was sophisticated and empty-headed but could have used her voice better.

Jane Lea Maynard and Lois Wright, as the shepherds, Corydon and Thyrsis, were boyishly simple and excellently played the tragedy to the death.

Hazen Gifford, assisted by Margaret Reid, directed The Valiant, a play by Hall and Middlemas. This play presents the last minutes in the life of James Dyke before he is hanged for murder. It is well-written and is powerful on any stage with almost any actors.

Minott Coombs, as James Dyke, was good but rather inconsistent—the action was not always suited to the line and to the implications of the line.

The third play, Up Jumps The Devil, was written by Minott Coombs. The audience found it delightful, laughed in the proper places and applauded at the end—what more can a writer ask? Virginia Helff directed the play, as-

Meet Your Profs

By F. Douglas Bowles

A familiar figure on campus is Professor Julio Berzunza originally from Bilbao, Spain, and of Spanish Basque descent. He was born there in 1896 and remained to complete his education at the College Elemental Preparatorio, Meridan, Yucatan. Soon after this he decided to learn English and came to the States where he enrolled at the University of Oklahoma. He received his A.B. in 1921 and his M.A. at the U. of Illinois in 1923. During this time he was beginning work on Alexander the Great. He remained at the U. of Illinois as Instructor of Romance Languages. In 1925 he became Instructor of Spanish and Italian at the U. of Maine and in 1928 came to UNH as Assistant Professor in the language department. Previous to this he worked as a court interpreter in New Orleans and Oklahoma.

In 1930 he became a naturalized citizen of the U. S. Later he met and married Mary Dodge, daughter of Prof. Chester E. Dodge of the College of Technology. She assisted him in much of his work, but she died in 1945 leaving him with only his mother, 72, and his sister, Dr. Dea Berzunza, both residents of Mexico City.

Before his mother moved to Mexico, he made frequent trips to visit her in Spain. He intends to visit her every summer in Mexico, which he says is "99% Hispanic in spite of the proximity to the U.S. and Indian influences."

He feels that his increased weight is a symptom of age, for he was much lighter, but despite his 50 years he still has many interests, these are philately, horticulture (which he used to take quite seriously), Mayan linguistics, a highly specialized field, and his favorite hobby, angling. But he is best known for his work in bibliography.

He is world renowned for his collection of Alexandrian literature and has published a bibliography on this. This work has taken 20 years and will be continually supplemented as the years pass.

He possesses a collection of probably 90% of all the Alexandrian literature in the world. This collection is written in more than 85 languages. Outstanding in the collection is the only known extant copy of the first edition of Quintus Curtius Rufus's History of Alexander the Great, printed in 1518 at Strassbourg by Schurer, and edited and annotated by Desiderius Erasmus.

In addition he has had many articles published in newspapers and magazines. He was in charge of the Spanish exercises in Hamilton's Spanish Grammar and contributed to the Library of Congress exhibit at the Century of Progress in 1933.

Besides his work on Alexander the Great he has been working on other research projects, but has had to change some of these since the death of his wife.

He is listed in "Who's Who in the East," "Who's Who Among North American Authors" and "Who's Who in New England." In addition is a member of the Modern Language Association, and AAUP.

He teaches Spanish 1 and 2, Spanish Conversation and Composition and Spanish American Literature. Since his arrival here 19 years ago he has seen "many changes and readjustments" and likes UNH very much. He laughs, "I would not have stayed this long if I didn't."

sisted by Mary Garland and Florence Flint, with good results.

Loraine Moody and Roberta Thomas gave vivid and lively portrayals of Adele and Becky, two high school brats, printing a socialistic news sheet, tearing down the school system and getting Adele's father into hot water. They were abetted by Henry Mann, who played Joe, the hungry, sports loving, woman-hating boy who ran their printing press.

Adele's mother and father were very well done by Lawrence Kilburn and Betsy Howard. Anthony Morse did an excellent job of playing the irate school principle who storms the Powell "castle," and Charlotte Ackerman played a teacher, also irate, also storming.

UNH Vet Reunited With Wartime "Pal"

Condensed from the
"Manchester Union"

Albert S. Chalek, a UNH sophomore, recently had a happy reunion with his wartime buddy, "Pal," a member of the K-9 Corps.

Chalek was assigned to the K-9 Corps at Fort Robinson, Nebraska when he entered the army in 1944. He became particularly fond of his "buddy," Pal, formerly known as Brand No. 517, and wrote to Pal's family requesting ownership. A notarized statement from the owners followed and both Pal and Chalek were separated. Chalek was discharged and Pal sent on to Fort Lewis, Washington, where he was assigned to the 50th Infantry Scout Dog Platoon.

Since September, Chalek has spent hours writing various officials in an effort to have Pal sent home. A letter to Senator Leverett Saltonstall finally brought results.

"It seems to me that Pal's service has been sufficient," Chalek wrote. "He has served three and one-half years and deserves the care and affection my family and I can give him."

The request was forwarded by Senator Saltonstall to the Sixth Army quartermaster and the story of Pal and his buddy had a happy ending. The dog was sent to Aleshire Quartermaster Depot, Fort Royal, Virginia, dog separation center, and arrived home last week. Pal is now happily situated in the home of Chalek's aunt in Dover, where Chalek is living.

Senator Saltonstall has written to Chalek requesting a photograph of Chalek and Pal.

Panel Resolutions Of World Student Conference Issued

Representing eight different nationalities, eighty-four persons registered as delegates to the World Student Conference which was held here on April 26-27. Of this number, there were 58 people from UNH, 17 Americans from other colleges in the United States, and nine students from other countries, including France, Germany, Italy, Norway, Greece, Palestine, and Egypt.

The following reports and resolutions were made by the six panels which were in session during the conference, and were adopted by the conference.

Panel on International Student Cooperation and Education for Democracy.

WHEREAS: Democracy rests upon the foundation of a responsible and informed citizenry and upon higher education there falls a great share of the responsibility of helping to insure that our citizens are able to fulfill their responsibilities to our democratic society.

THEREFORE: In order to insure the continued and increased effectiveness of our universities, we urge: A. That freedom of expression of individual students, of student bodies and of faculty members be jealously guarded. B. That admissions of students and faculty to colleges and universities should be on the basis of competence. C. That student organizations and faculties feel the greatest responsibility to insure that decisions as to the textbooks used in their universities are not influenced by special interest groups. D. That pay for teachers be in proportion to the importance of their services, responsibilities and training.

WHEREAS: Students throughout the world are vitally interested in insuring that their future and that of their children be a bright future, a future not desecrated by war, but enriched by an exchange of their native cultures and of the ideas and research in their respective areas of study.

WHEREAS: We believe that student cooperation both nationally and internationally is vital for world peace.

THEREFORE: We urge A. That the National Student Organization participate fully in the International Union as Students. B. That all colleges and universities should affiliate themselves with and participate fully in the National Student Organization. C. That the student body of the University of New Hampshire affiliate itself with and participate fully in the National Student Organization.

WHEREAS: We recognize the United Nations as the primary international organization working for world peace and for the conditions of a world community.

THEREFORE: We feel that students can play an important part in preventing another war by arousing public opinion in the United States to the realization of this need.

Panel on Economic and Political Developments in Europe and Fascist Nations Today. Report: 1. There should be immediate and large scale aid given to the European countries on the scale of UNRRA, but on a larger scale in order to stabilize and aid these countries in an effort to stop the rise of Communism. 2. There should be an increase in the exchange student program in order for the students to gain a mutual understanding of the various social and economic problems. 3. Spain, due to its present economic condition is not an immediate threat to the world. 4. Socialism as it exists in the western European countries today is not a danger as it is basically democratic in character and is a stop-gap until their former economic status is achieved.

Panel on Independence Movements in Asia. Report:

In our discussion of the freedom movements of French Indo-China, the Dutch East Indies, China, India, and Africa, we found that the main opposition to the freedom movements in Asia is the result of the desire of the Western Powers to continue the exploitation of Far Eastern Resources. The Western Powers have tried to justify their suppression of these movements on the grounds of Asiatic poverty, factionalism, and lack of industrialization. Actually, the policy of the West has been to raise their own standards of living at the expense of their Asiatic colonies by keeping wages at a minimum substance level; because of this it is no wonder that some Asiatics have turned to Communism. As an illustration of the West's contribution to factionalism, we had the Tory British Government's fostering of the Hindu-Muslim strife by the communal system of voting, which was so obvious that it was deprecated by Ramsey MacDonald, the former Prime Minister of England. As to the lack of industrialization, one of the primary motives of the Western Powers was the search for markets. Thus it has been to the interests of these powers to maintain the status quo. As long as they continue their policies along these lines, the excuse for staying in Asia will remain.

We examined the present foreign policy of the United States in view of its implications for Asiatic freedom. We found that some people think that many guerillas in the hills of Greece are really thorough going liberals and democrats. Undoubtedly there are Communists among them; however, American support of reactionary governments may well force liberals to accept Communism. The bitter experiences of some Asiatic leaders with Western democracy has turned their sympathies toward the left. Thus the danger that a further extension of the Truman Doctrine might lead to suppression of these freedom movements in the name of a crusade against Communism.

What can the student do to oppose such dangerous trends? As individuals we must read and study all shades of thought, find the facts, and encourage critical and analytical reasoning among our associates by challenging the emotional propaganda spread in connection with important issues of the day. We should search for and point out similarities between races, religious, and political philosophies as a means of understanding. We should devote our time now to prepare ourselves to take an active role in national and international affairs whenever the opportunities arise. Finally, we can create and foster opportunities for differing groups to get together, and guide these gatherings in discussing common issues.

Panel on The Palestine Question. Report:

1. Formation of a Jewish state in the whole of Palestine or in a section of it.
2. Unrestricted immigration into Palestine.
3. Abolishment of land restrictions of Palestine.

Arab Claims:

1. Palestine independence set up for the people there with the power to choose their own government.
2. That other nations participate in the recent immigration crisis.

RESOLUTION:

That the British leave Palestine as soon as possible.

Panel on Minority Problems in the United States. Report: The discussion was mainly on the American Negro problem because this is the largest and most important minority in the United States. However, the following five resolutions were set forth as an attempt to combat ignorance and to promote better understanding in regard to all minority groups in the United States.

RESOLUTIONS:

1. That one day each year should be set aside in American schools, colleges, and universities as Equality day, with literature and other exhibits of an informative nature displayed for the purpose of educating the public to the achievements of minority groups in the United States.
2. That college and university libraries subscribe to magazines and newspapers of minority groups in order to acquaint students with their problems and activities.
3. That colleges and universities in the United States form inter-racial committees for better understanding in those colleges and universities where racial groups are represented. This program could be carried out by the National Student Organization.
4. That newspapers, radio stations and movies depict a more realistic picture of minority groups rather than the usual stereotypes. This step could be backed by private philanthropic funds and by the United States Office of Education.
